General Information:

- We provide translation service with certified medical translators, most of whom possess the certificate of CATTI (this is the most authoritative certificate on translation awarded by Ministry of Personnel of China). And also, we can seal on the translated document with our specialized translation stamp.

- For document with more than 1000 Chinese characters, we charge RMB 0.28 yuan per each Chinese character. And since we have a minimum order receiving quantity, for document with less than 1000 Chinese characters, we will charge according to the quantity of pages, as RMB 230 yuan per page. We will have discount for client with large quantity of documents.
- Each translation group can finish translation + proofreading for about 2000 Chinese characters each day. And if it is needed, we can arrange several groups to carry out the translation work for large quantity documents with limited time. Therefore, for more specific information, we may need to see the document and then decide the certain price and work time.
- Since we have branches in many cities, plus, we handle most of the documents via email, which can help us to work without worrying about the regional difference. I assume that we can provide service in most areas in China.
